

With the fast-approaching implementation of the Department of Labor's new overtime regulation, we wanted to take a look at overtime facts over the years -- who is working the most overtime, who is violating overtime compliance the most, and what people think of the new overtime regulation.

DISCLAIMER: The information presented in this document highlights several examples of federal and/or state labor law requirements. Replicon makes no guarantees as to the completeness or accuracy of these summarized requirements. This document in no way suggests or offers any labor law guidance, or legal advice of any kind, and should not be construed as such. If you need legal advice in relation to labor law compliance issues, please consult with your qualified legal advisor.

Who's working the most overtime?

Percentage of men vs women working over 40 hrs per week in the US<sup>2</sup>

Which countries work the most overtime?

Percentage of managers working over 40 hours per week by country<sup>3</sup>

How much overtime does the US work?

Average hours worked by full-time US workers aged 18+<sup>4</sup>

What age is working the most overtime?

Average hours worked by age group<sup>5</sup>

How far spread are overtime violations?

Cases Resulting In Back Wages

- Includes overtime violations
- Does not include overtime violations

Breakdown of cases resulting in back wages paid for FLSA violations<sup>6</sup>

Number of overtime cases and dollar value

Although the number of overtime case violations has decreased over the past 3 years, the dollar amount for back wages has increased<sup>7</sup>

Which industries have the most overtime violations?

Most common industries for wage and hour case settlements<sup>6</sup>

Which states have the most violations?

California, Florida, New York and Texas accounted for over 1/3 of the FLSA violations found between 2007-2015<sup>7</sup>

Want to learn more and avoid overtime violations?

Want to learn about the updates to overtime? See this three-part series detailing all of the latest changes, impacts, and best practices. This overtime update is effective as of January 1st, 2020.