Make physical time collection easy with an intelligent, cloud-connected time clock solution

“ Timesheets are in a lot sooner, and very few people have any problems getting them done. ”

Jim Fournier

Managing Director, Solutions Atlantic

Replicon CloudClock gives organizations the flexibility to combine powerful time and attendance software with an iOS device for an easy to use, intelligent, cloud connected time clock solution.

Track Employee Time with Ease & Accuracy

Replicon CloudClock takes the headache out of tracking employee time physically with an easy-to-use, all-in-one solution that is flexible and easy to deploy. Offered on iOS tablet devices, organizations can download and install the time clock application on devices that may already own in-house.

Getting started with CloudClock is easy. Download the app on your Apple tablet, connect it to your enterprise Replicon account and start tracking time and attendance immediately, without the need for any training, thanks to its intuitive user interface. CloudClock supports different shifts and employee types within the same devices, making for a cost effective, versatile solution.

Employees can use CloudClock to complete additional self-service tasks including viewing and requesting time off, viewing their schedules if applicable, and seeing their punch history. Note: Device can be used offline to collect data.

Always-on Device Monitoring

Enjoy the benefits of around the clock device monitoring and maintenance, from our world-class, award winning support team. Replicon proactively detects and fixes potential problems before customers are effected.

Go Beyond Biometrics

Biometric Time Clocks came in vogue to prevent time theft. With real-time image capture and a photo audit trail combined with user I.D. or a unique QR punching code, employers can eliminate the risk of buddy punching.

Automatic Updates

As a cloud connected device, new product updates are automatically pushed to your application - no need to replace a physical device or buy a new and upgraded product.

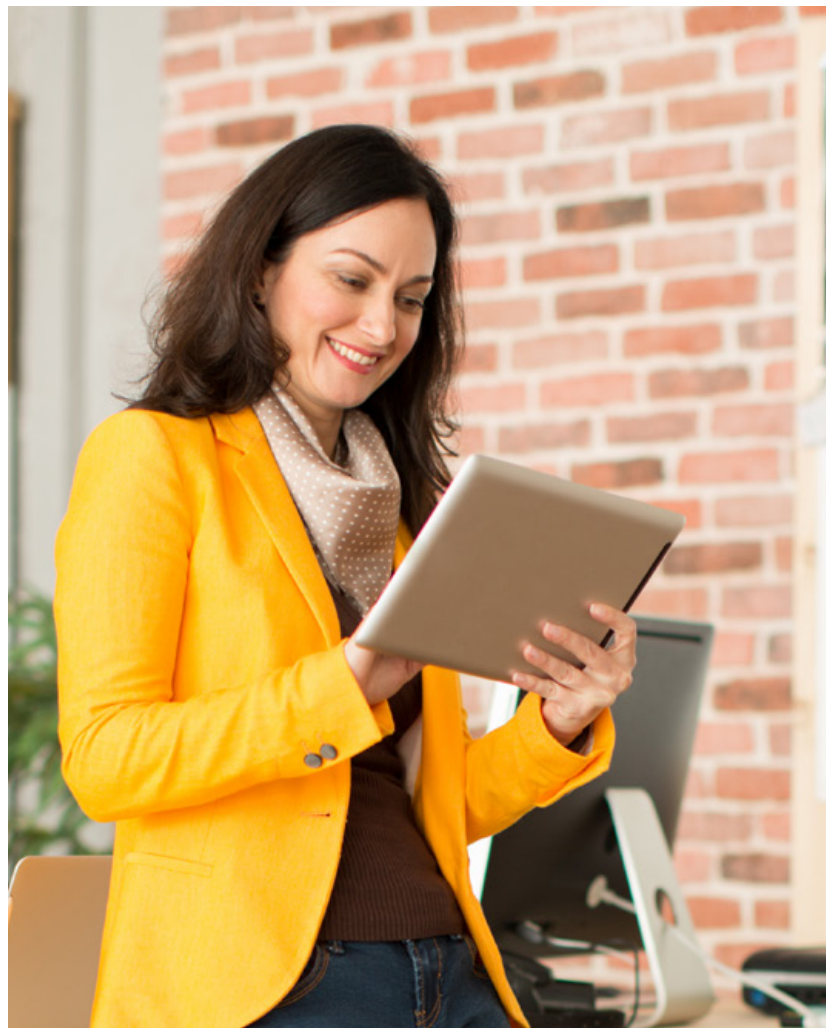

Unified Controls

Because the CloudClock is seamlessly connected to your Replicon Platform, all of your configured policies, schedules, rules and security settings are automatically taken into account and reflected in the front end console.

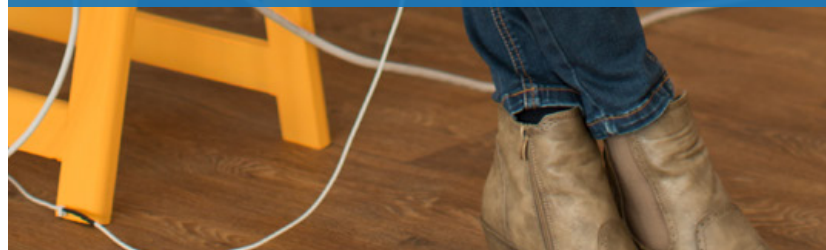

Real-time Visibility and Reporting

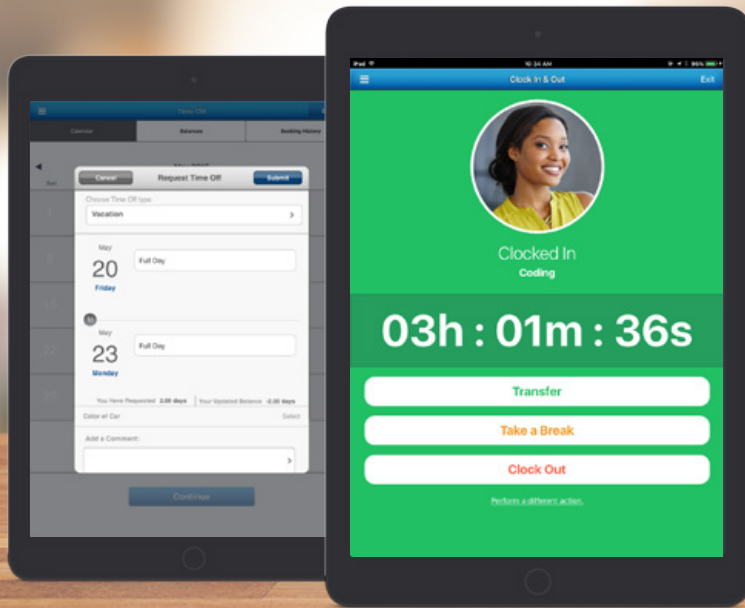

As a cloud connected device, time and attendance data captured on a CloudClock is immediately reflected in all of your Replicon applications to allow real-time monitoring and decision making.

“ Replicon was better than any other time and attendance solution we looked at. With SaaS, people can do timesheets from client locations, or wherever. ”
